Object: endorsement and commitment letter of the University of Palermo to the Charter and Code for Researchers and to the strengthened HRS4R project.

The University of Palermo, represented by its rector prof. Fabrizio Micari, confirms the adoption of the European Charter and Code for Researchers as one of the basic documents for developing strategic development plans for the University of Palermo.

Although several of the general principles are already common practice in our institution, further attention is now paid to the implementation of the strengthened Human Resource strategy for Researchers project integrating Open Transparent and Merit based Recruitment in line with current Italian legislations.

Therefore, the University of Palermo confirms commitment and endorsement to the European Charter and Code for researchers as recommended by the European Commission.

The Rector
Fabrizio Micari
